Renewables come to NC with NC2025 Clean Path!!
Presented by Amanda Robertson, local climate activist and educator

NC WARN has rolled out a 100+ page plan written by energy engineer Bill Powers, that outlines a path for North Carolina to pursue 100% renewable energy.

The plan has a place for all of us to get involved and to have a role in creating our own clean energy future. Amanda will give an overview of the plan, answer questions, and share how everyone can get involved in their communities. Learn more about the plan at: <http://www.ncwarn.org/cp25/>

Join us for a 30-minute presentation followed by Q & A and discussion.
