PAUL GILDING: "The Earth Is Full"

Environmental activist Paul Gilding is a writer, entrepreneur, and former CEO of Greenpeace.

Despite 50 years of warnings about global warming, humankind has yet to grasp the urgency for change. Meanwhile, Earth's population is continuing to live beyond its means. Environmental activist Paul Gilding paints a picture of the not-so-distant future that will befall each nation unless society can mobilize a rapid response.

Gilding's focus is to motivate and inspire people to act on the urgent challenges of climate and sustainability.

Join us for this inspiring Ted Talk. Followed by discussion on how we can act at the community level to meet the coming challenges.
